On Peace and Preparedness

I'll have to answer that one, Lon, playin' it two ways from the Jack. I must admit that in the suitry summer season, when the meadows are aglow, and the busy bees are beein', and the lazy louts are lazin' there ain't no chook worm' in these parts what loves to loll and loiter in the green and sun-

No doubt we all—barrin' them scorpions' what slipped in soft on war specials—wants a lastin' peace, but what we wants and what we gets don't always room in the same flat. So the quickest way to dope it is to figure the past-performances and future prospects of the roosters' what's doin' the most crowin' on both sides of the fence, compare the answer with the human nature side of it, and the result oughts show us the best road to travel.

Taking Old King Ted fr' instance, the outstandin' exponent of our 'chipon-the-shoulder' party. He didn't dast show his teeth up in Canada the other day, for fear his self-starter 'd get nervous and cause him to spit shrapnel all over the palm room. You can't blame Teddy for takin' this stand 'cause it's dead open and shut, that if it hadn't been for them 'dogs o' war' he'd still be gum shoein' on the New York police force, so, you gotta give him credit for loyalty shown to the factrines what made him. And if we ner-up' in the stable, whats outa a job, that the people would rather have set the pace for our in-comin' President than they would old W. J. B. dent than they would old W. J. B.

So you see, Lon, it's the old army game, after all. You pays your coin and you takes your pick, but no matter what side you strings with, charge this one to me, don't never grab a bone outa a hungry dog's mouth, nor corner a rat to hunt for gold in his teath. How's that?

There is much joy over the announcement that boxing has been efficially added to Harvard's list of sports. Forty candidates for fistic honors have already reported to Manager William L. Robinson in the Hemenway gunnasium. Three teachers of boxing have been engaged to handle the men. Archie Rocserelt, son of Theodore Rocserelt, is used as a light-weight.

If Freddy Welsh and Charley White box in New Orleans instead of Fulton and Willard, there will be little difference; in the match. Welsh and White can fight, but wen't; Willard and Fulton want to fight, but can't.

I gotta confess I don't quite get the drift of either faction. It's a cinch that them drippled European clubs ain't goin' to attempt much road work for some time to come, so, why the hurry-scurry on our part! Just 'cause a cld-time dopester scribbled a pome about "A ounce of precaution preventin' a ocean of pain" it ain't no reason why we should get feverish and empty the bottle, nor can I see what difference it makes if we decides to add a few more 'pinch hitters' to our regular crew.

AGING in the wood is for more than pro-ducing mellowness—it is done so that time may eliminate disagreeable and unwhole-some oils. That's why the genuins aging of Cascade by time alone means so much to its wholesomeness—its mellowness is incidental to this more important quality. Original Bottling has Old Gold Label GEO.A. Handicapping Horses Is Greatly Affected

New York, Jan. 14.—At the annual mont. F. K. Sturgis, Schuyler L. Parmeeting of the Jockey Club the allow-sons and John Sanford were re-elected stewards of the Jockey Club.

At the annual meeting of the stewards seum's speedy roller skate race artist, last night signed articles to meet a four-man relay team in a two-mile race at the Coliseum Monday night, January 24.

The men chosen to skate on this team against Donnelly are four of the appedicat skaters now performing in this city and it is thought by the "roller-race clockers" that the champ is in for a decisive defeat. The raley
